Looking at host teacher's methods of teaching

Reflection :

This teacher has a very relaxed environment when teaching. Homework was presented by students at the beginning of class and when some students did not have it they were told to bring it to the next class.

This teacher does not use a lot of technology in her classes, she did not use the projector screen or computer and has said that she prefers not to, instead using the whiteboard to write up key words throughout the lesson. She finds that the technology in the school can be finnicky and sometimes waste time.

Student are chatty during class and have the freedom to talk so long as they are working at the same time, this created a nice environment within the classroom however issues did arise where students were talking and not working and therefore they were separated.
